PREMIERE

THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT

Welcome to the 1977 CHS Premiere featuring the finest class ever to be in the limelight of the Corunna High School. As this flick delights your eyes with the famous stars of 1977 CHS, you'll recall the filming of a very unique movie. You'll remember the year your face dazzled the students, teachers, and administration of humble Corunna High as it appeared on that silver screen . . . when YOU were the celebrity.

"You mean we have to have a guest permit?"

"Let's roll 'em, Ferndock. The crowd's getting impatient!"

"And now, here's Clint Eastwood!"

"Hey, he's terrific!!!"

"Corunna has the good . . . the bad . . . and the not-so-great-looking."

'Coach, isn't that the Lone Ranger?'

'Coach Annese sayem go this way. Silver, you block 'em for Pete.'

"But the Cavaliers don't need any help in the game, Roy!"

"What'd you say, Hess??"

"We're the younger pioneers."

FEATURES

THE WAY WE WERE

Our senior year at Corunna High quickly passed. Along with the news-in-the-making at CHS, the "real" world had interesting headlines and news items about places, people, and happenings, of which the following were a part.

Earthquakes shook down many cities and claimed a great number of lives in Turkey, China, and South America.

The raid at Entebbe was more exciting than a fictional movie when the Israelis made the decision to rescue hostages held by terrorists at the Entebbe air terminal.

The death of Mao Tse-tung set all of China in a state of mourning and caused the world to wonder what was to come.

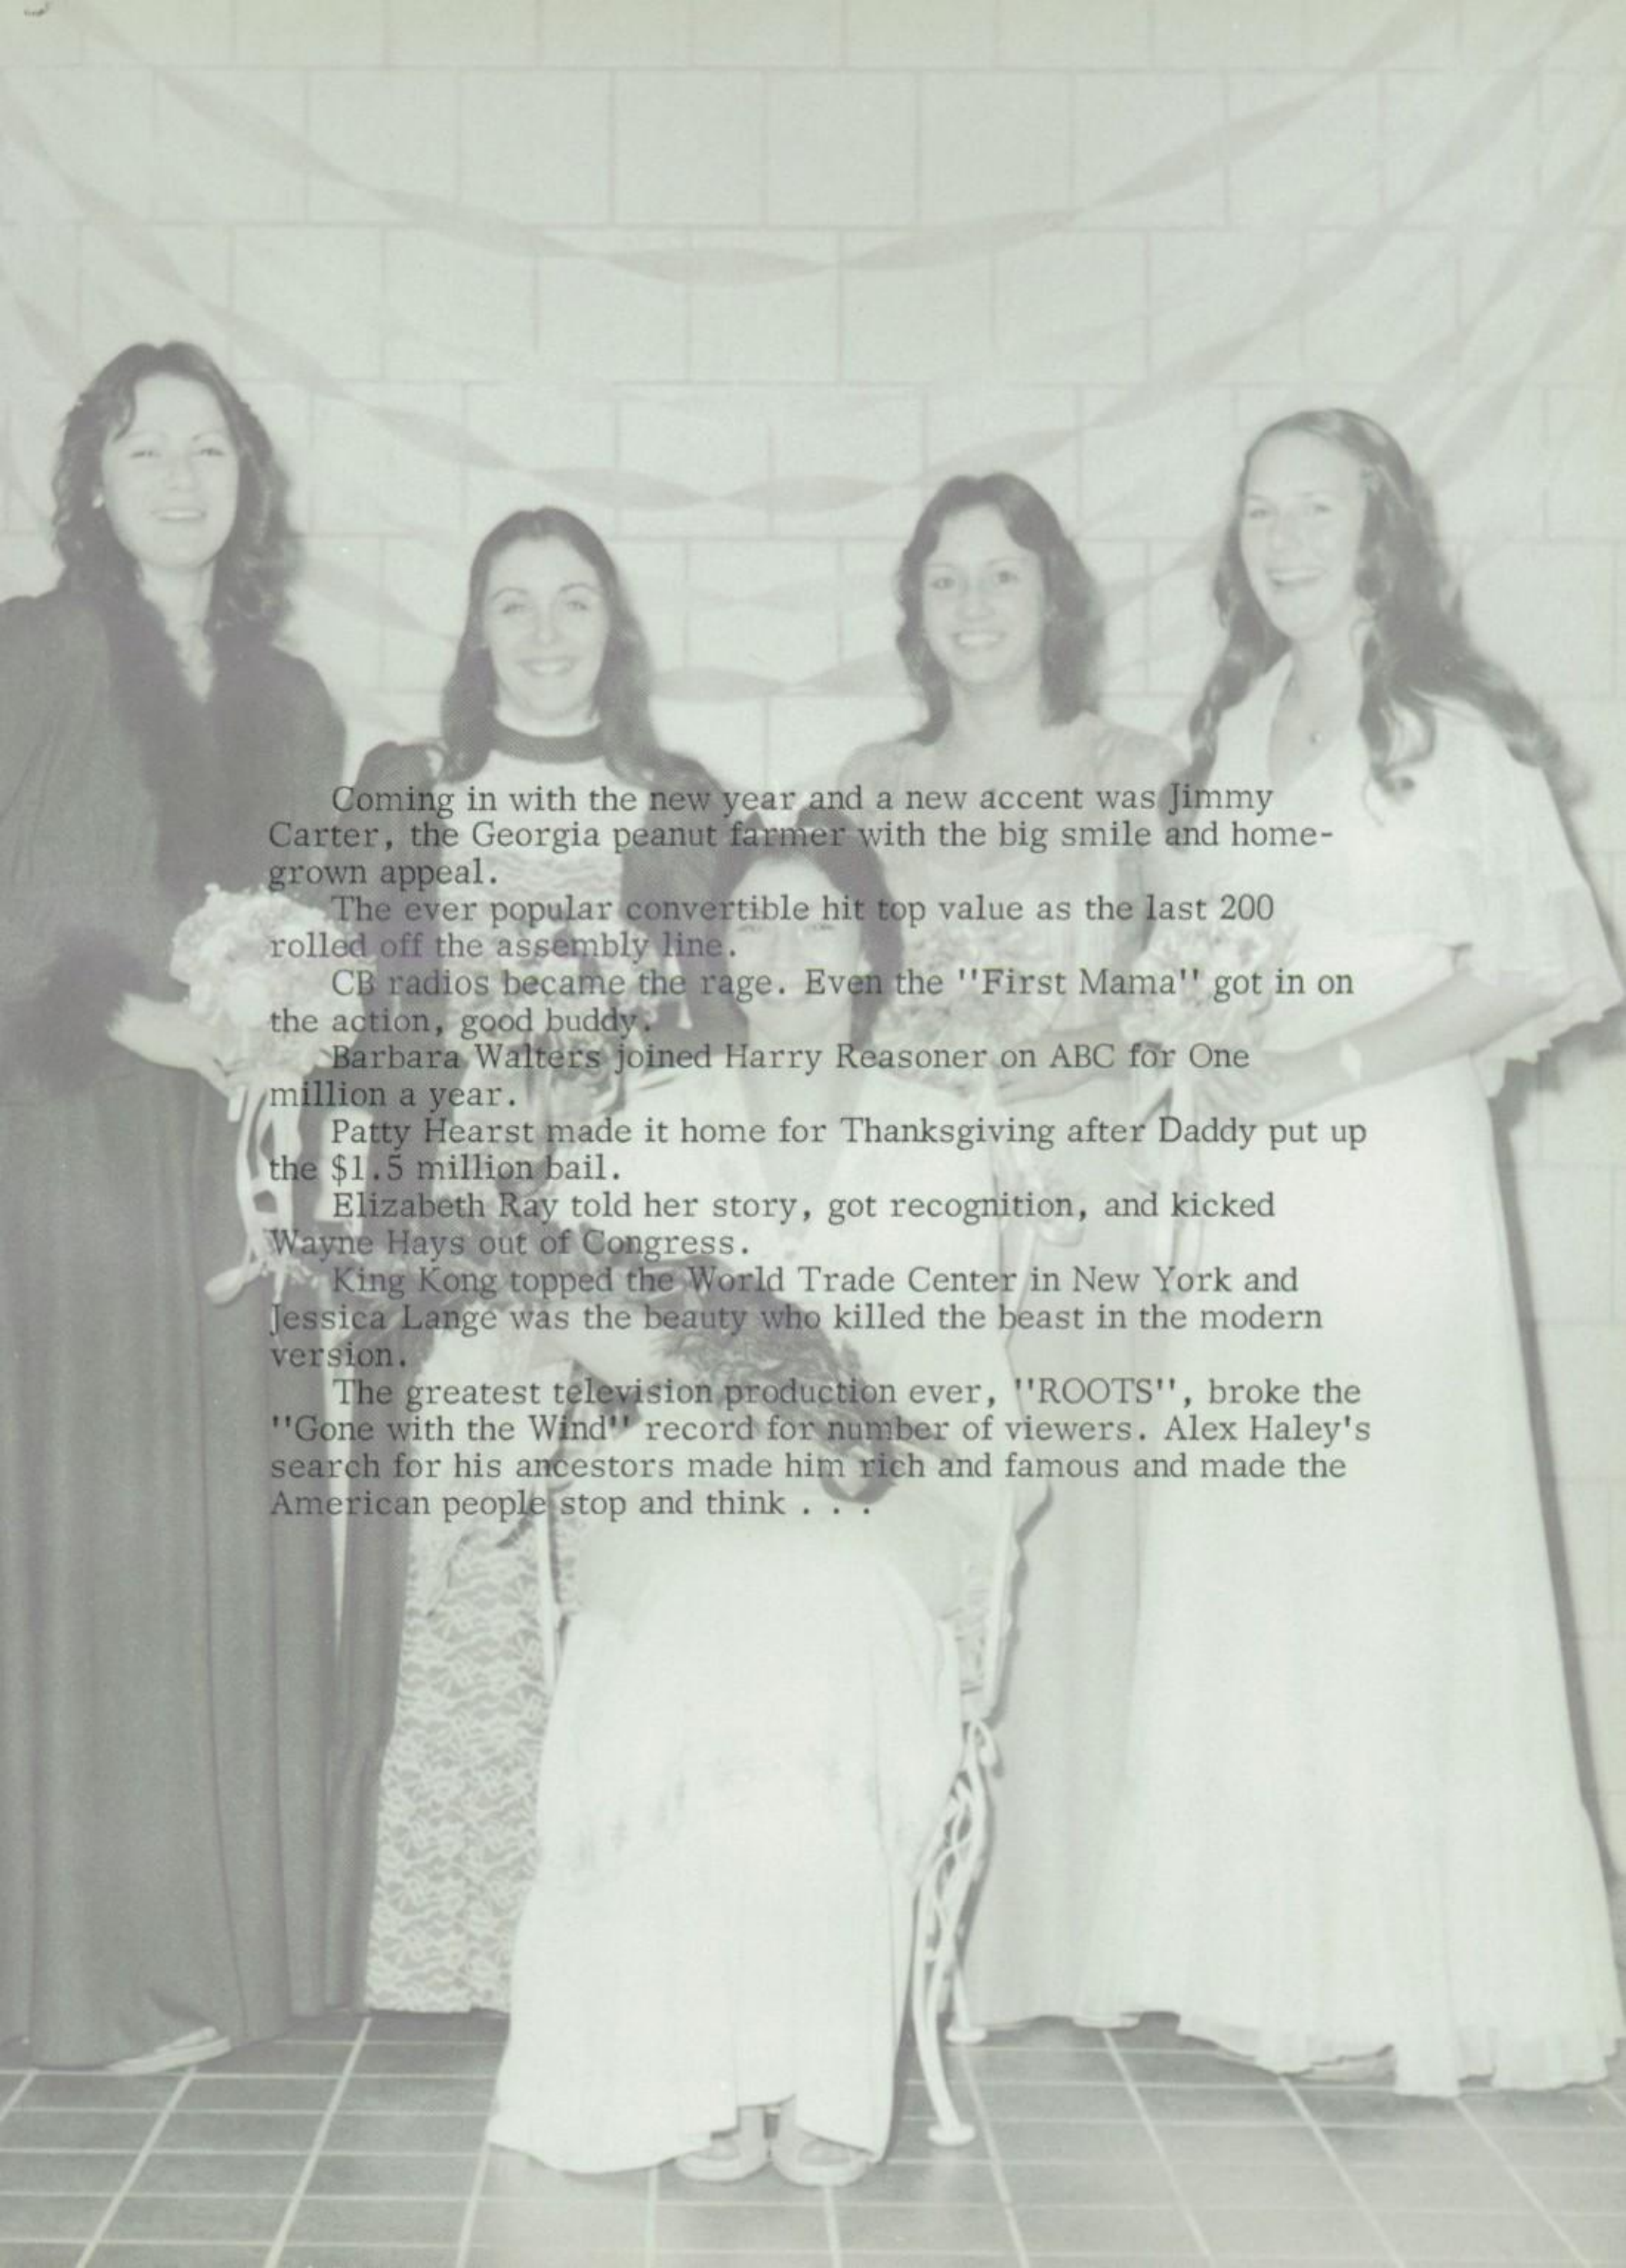

Mars posed while Viking took colored pictures, tests, and samples that will take years to analyze.

Seven Americans won every awarded Nobel Prize of 1976.

Nadia Comaneci, Rumania's 14-year-old, won the audiences and returned home with seven perfect scores after competing in the Olympics.

A mysterious disease struck 180 people and claimed 29 lives after a Legionnaires meeting in the hotel Bellevue Stratford in Philadelphia.

Going out with the Bicentennial was President Gerald Ford, the Grand Rapids athlete with an All-American graciousness and dignity.

Coming in with the new year and a new accent was Jimmy Carter, the Georgia peanut farmer with the big smile and home-grown appeal.

The ever popular convertible hit top value as the last 200 rolled off the assembly line.

CB radios became the rage. Even the "First Mama" got in on the action, good buddy.

Barbara Walters joined Harry Reasoner on ABC for One million a year.

Patty Hearst made it home for Thanksgiving after Daddy put up the $1.5 million bail.

Elizabeth Ray told her story, got recognition, and kicked Wayne Hays out of Congress.

King Kong topped the World Trade Center in New York and Jessica Lange was the beauty who killed the beast in the modern version.

The greatest television production ever, "ROOTS", broke the "Gone with the Wind" record for number of viewers. Alex Haley's search for his ancestors made him rich and famous and made the American people stop and think . . .

TRUE GRIT

Hot lunch in the cafeteria is a new experience this year. We've dined off the vending machines for the past four years and now our taste buds have to readjust to surfburgers, french fries and apple crisp. For 50¢ I'd say you get a pretty good deal. Not real tasty you say? Well, it beats a "chuckwagon" covered with mustard!

love Poem

Yellow fuzz that turns white with age.
A small, inconspicuous something.
It rocks gently in the breeze
And mingles,
Freely with the grass.

He never crowds his brothers.
But shades them in the sun.
He spreads the yellow hat
he wears
To keep them from the heat.

The children and their pets
Go running through the field.
When accidentally stepped upon
He doesn't scream or yell
But gently springs back up.

The breeze is growing cooler.
His stem begins to droop.
He never gets discouraged
But smiles
And blows away.

Cruisin' 1976

On Friday night in Owosso
you will see a familair sight.
Cars driving around the Big Boy,
some are looking for a good fight.

Some guys have fancy four-wheelers,
while some have the faster race cars.
They all stop downtown for a while,
some, later on, go to the bars.

Some guys bring their girlfriends along and they sit real close in the seat.
Others who aren't so fortunate,
come looking for a girl to meet.

Some people drive through kind of fast,
but most cruise around fairly slow.
The object of those in the cars,
is a thing some will never know.

Squash

What makes this food
Taste the way it does?
Well, to tell you the truth
I really don't care.

I've tried it every way possible
And each time I think it gets worse.
No matter how you cook it
It always tastes the same.

Last summer we planted squash
Out in our vegetable garden.
Everywhere I looked or walked
There was that ugly yellow stuff.

It seemed to just grow and grow
And overthrow all the good things.
I wanted to chop it all down
But my parents would've killed me.

After all the picking was done
I couldn't believe my eyes.
Instead of seeing lots of beans,
I saw nothing but squash!

That squash is just waiting
To be set on the kitchen table.
But as long as I'm around
It'll just have to sit there.

The Lonely Runner

Beyond the cheering crowd
And the uniformed baseball team,
Wearing a sleeveless sweatshirt
And cut off jeans,
Runs one lonely boy,
Around and around the cinder track.

Friendship

Friendship is like a flower that has not had time to open yet,
It is like the fragrant dew when the morning dew leaves the ground damp.

It's something you feel but can't see
It is like a golden mist that lingers breathlessly soft and fair
That is what friendship means to some.

It is like a salty spray that you smell when nearing the seashore.
It's sometimes like a joyful laugh
Brimming over with lots of glee.

It's like a drink of cool water
On the hottest of summer days
Friendship comes in different sizes
And many bright colorful shapes.

It's like a shadowy orchard
When the sun comes over the hill
It is like peace, joy and gladness
In the dewy hours soundless.

Sonnett

When we first met, a song I sang about you the one that I love and in my ears the soft bells rang and sang love as sweet as a dove.
Your touch showed spring, during the fall

Your smile made the clouds go away

The brightness in your eyes is all
I could ever want for today.
How much we've grown, the love we've shared a day passing by with the sun

I'm happy to know that you cared
I'll love you 'til our love is done
I'll sit and dream when you're not here and in my heart, there will be no fear.

Bellow sweet ocean, you've lost way.
 Cry for direction, land of salt.
 And spank the shores, when you reach them
 Weep as you move, the silent sails.
 Sleep silent child ocean, rest calm.
 Sunlight has tired you today.
 You move swiftly in your sand cradle.
 Now mother says it's time to sleep.
 Sun has shut her eyes, calm your waves,
 Sleep silent child ocean, rest calm.
 Retire to the deep, deep so blue,
 And wake to the sunlight of day.
 Then you may crash against the sand.
 The sand that has made your cradle.

Let's think about it

Being here, in this room alone with you
 Saying those three special words
 Softly and quietly without restraint
 I love you and would do anything for you
 I know how many times we have talked about it.

We shouldn't let our feelings
 Get twisted with what's right and wrong
 We have to think of our parents
 And how hurt they would be
 Besides we're still young
 And have our whole life ahead of us
 Let's not blow the future
 Because of one night
 And two foolish minds.

Reflections on Life

As the light blue sky announced the
New day, a hopeful and trusting
Aspect about life formed; and with
It, the sun slowly rises; using
It for a background, which unjustly
Relinquishes the thoughts of the Night before. For today has come
And yesterday is lost forever.
Only the memories remain;
And yet, with the thought of growing
Older, there is not regret for
The innocence of our youth, which Seems to be the reassurance
Of the sun today, setting the Dawn for the approaching future.

LOVE

Treat me tender
Don't break my heart.
I love you so much,
Please say you love me too.
Your kiss is sweet
and soft to my lips.
Don't ever go away.
I don't think I could handle it.
I love now
I'll love you forever.
Stay with me,
I'll be your lover.

A Summer's Night

Seeing the sun set like a golden ball of life
behind the pines,
Feeling a cool breeze
blowing through my hair.
Listening to the waves
rippling up onto the shore,
Roasting marshmallows
over a blazing fire,
And watching the stars appear one by one against the darkening sky.
These things and more are what makes a summer's night so special.

The Wise Gardener Prunes His Roses Carefully

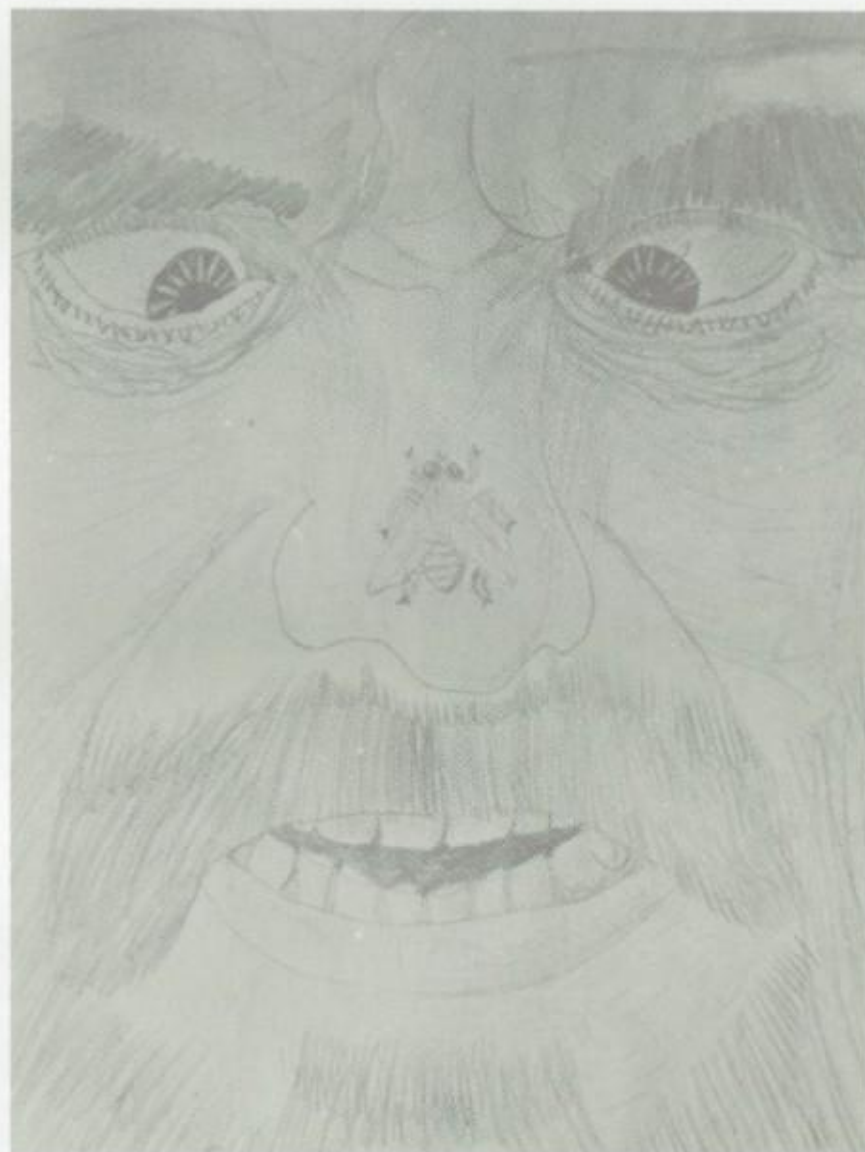

The wise gardener prunes his roses carefully.
He snips sucker shoots out quickly and feeds new growth with soft, fragrant sheep manure.
Once a year, he removes old, tired stems.
Then, if the plants are drained well,
watered well,
dusted for aphids,
and, if God wills,
June will bring the reward he awaits.
The white picket fence will once again
give birth to a blanket of red velvet fragrance.

The flowers in the garden
are soft as they open their eyes
to see the morning
dew.

"A Zebra - Horse . . . ?"

I opened the door . . .
Peeked inside . . .
What is it?
Where did it come from?

It's weird, it's crazy!
I don't believe my eyes!
It can't be true
Yes . . . It looked like a zebra - horse!

It was newly born . . .
Only a couple of hours or so . . .
But it was kind of frightening,
To watch this strange animal.

It had stripes like a piece of gum!
Its eyes were the shape of grapes!

Its body reminded me of a martion animal!
I - I - M-u-s-t be having a dream!

Since when did a zebra - horse,
Enter into our history?
This can't be an actual thing
I can't imagine what happened!

Laurie . . . Laurie . . .
"Who's calling me?
Where is that noise coming from?
Is it the zebra - horse?

As I turned around to see who was there . . .
Everything went blank . . .
I then opened my eyes to see . . .
My mother waking me from that dream!

BUFFALO BILL

JUNIORS

Everybody was ready to give up on the Junior Class, but this year they finally got it all together. The magazine sale was a great success and they showed everyone that they really had spirit!

SOPHOMORES

The Sophomores sure proved one thing, next to the Seniors they had the biggest mouths at all the pep assemblies. That's okay though. Keep up the good work and show some of the same enthusiasm next year!

AND THE INDIANS

FRESHMEN

The Freshmen this year really adjusted well to their first year of High School. The reason they adjusted faster was probably because none of the upper classmen knew where anything was either!

SPORTS DEDICATION

MR. NICHOLAS ANNESE

The 1977 Corunna High School Year-book is honoring Mr. Nicholas Annese by dedicating the following sport pages in his honor. Mr. Annese retired from coaching at the end of 25 years. Coach Annese has compiled an excellent 91-32-3 record during his 15 years at Corunna.

In announcing his retirement, he said "I hate to quit, but I have to. My health is the only reason for leaving. I love the game, and I love the kids." In climaxing his coaching career he guided the Cavaliers to a perfect 9-0 season. He was named "COACH OF THE YEAR" by the Michigan High School Football Coaches Association.

Touchdown pass Ockerman to Kim during the Homecoming game.

Defense is the name of the game. Our defense only gave up 64 points this season.

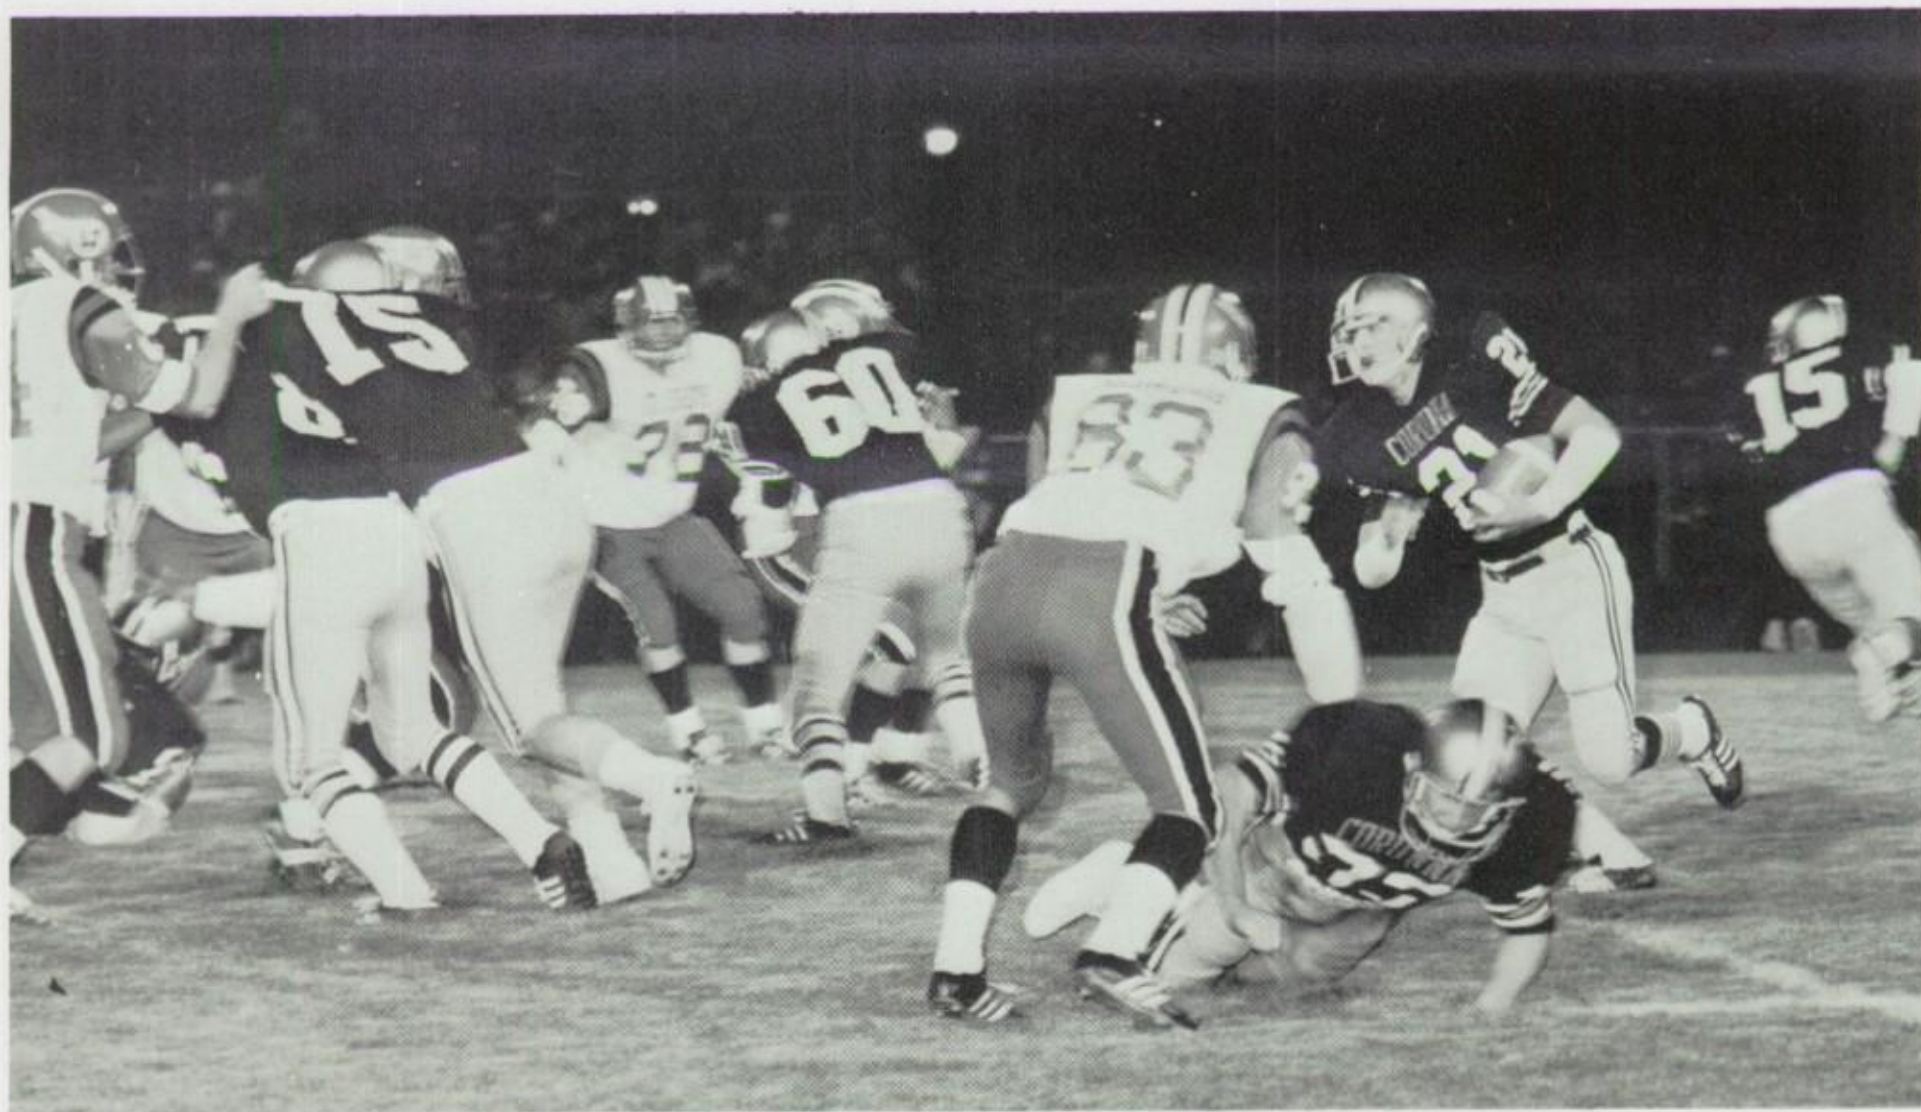

Pete Hornus found his way by many tacklers this season for 965 yards.

Dave Stewart took this Redwing pitch-out to the Cavalier end zone for a T.D.

THE STING

The offensive line opened many holes for our fine backfield. Randy Shephard took this one for a big gain.

The Romance of the Year

Starsky and Hutch, right?

As the grand finale rolls out of the camera and receives its due standing ovation, you'll realize the premiere you've just witnessed is a classic to become a collector's item and a "Golden Oldie". The featured class of 1977 played an exciting role in the successful flick that crowded the box office and "due to popular demand" was held over the entire school year. Our congratulations to the stars and the directors on an outstanding achievement.

CAN YOU PICK THE TYPICAL CHS STUDENT?

1. Darin Double- No, he's the school hood. He spends more time in the principal's office than in class. He's done everything at least once. 2. Carrie Books- No, she's the brain. She takes her books home every night and can take notes before the teacher gives them. 3. Harold Hugby and Candy Cuddles- Wrong again!! They're the inseparable pair. They flunked Phys. Ed. because they wouldn't leave each other to go to their respective locker rooms. 4. Ellen Holler- Nope! She cheers so loud you can hear her in the parking lot. When not cheering she's walking the halls in her flippy little skirt. 5. Bustin' Biceps- Missed again. He's such a great athlete he's on the weight machine from 3:10 until 9 p.m. (That's his curfew during golf, football, basketball, wrestling, swimming and track!) 6. H.A. Bailing- No, he's a real farmer. Drives his tractor to school every morning and eats only hog jowl and hominy grits for lunch. 7. Betsy Conduit- Nope. Working on the farm keeps her in shape. Last year she won the state wrestling meet and the pig calling contest too. 8. Skip Beat- No, he was so busy concentrating on the flute player at the concerts that he played all the wrong music. 9. Dol Drum- Sorry. He was so lost in marching season that he spent the halftimes watching the show from the bleachers. You guessed it!! There are no typical students at CHS!

The staff thanks J. Stasa, T. Vasicek, D. Steele, L. Luchenbil, S. Crim, J. Kim, H. Bennett, L. Corbin, M. Gasparovic & R. Seigel for their spirit and cooperation.
